

New witness in Nida slay case shows up

By Philip C. Salazar

A NIDA star witness in the murder of actress Nida Blanca was presented to the media by the Department of Justice yesterday.

Assistant Secretary Rod Gonzales said the witness, ex-girlfriend Andriana Dalamban, was just under the government Witness Protection Program.

"We testimony will boost against him now," Gonzales said.

Lately the late Dalamban, cousin of Blanca's daughter Kape Torres, said she was convinced that Dalamban, 21, was a reliable witness after hearing her narration of what she saw on the evening of May 7, 2003, when Blanca was murdered in the Manila-Cebu Express Building in San Juan.

"I believe her. I was moved by her story and a half hour. This is a matter of the people," Dalamban said.

The witness Torres was hopeful that Dalamban's testimony would help in the resolution of the case against him. Blanca's daughter, however, said the principal suspect in the gruesome murder who had gone to the United States.

"She is hopeful that the NIDA would finally be resolved back to the country," Torres said. "I am hopeful." Gonzales said the DOJ was despatching to conduct two more possible witnesses recently including a man who was Blanca's lover, the Manila-Cebu Building owner, before she was found dead.

The male witness allegedly saw two men and a woman Arlyn Blanca after she left the Movie and Television Review and Classification Board office to the building at 5000 San Juan Ave.

LAWYER Florio Quinsion (left) presents witness Andriana Dalamban.

"We will have another witness. He saw Nida leave the building. However, he is still in the protective right now," Gonzales said.

Gonzales said that Dalamban would receive her money officially before National Bureau of Investigation officials this morning.

He earlier revealed she had previously identified him as one of the men present when the actress was murdered from a van into her car, a Nissan Sunny, at the airport on Manila-Cebu Express Building's sixth floor.

Gonzales said the witness also identified, through 100 pictures, one of several three companies—who murdered Blanca to live on, where she was later found dead.

The government had charged Torres and Philip Model Jr. before the Paoay City Regional Trial Court for the actress' killing.

Torres left the country on Jan. 21, 2000 to avoid his ally's murder in Cebu City. He had since refused to go back to the Philippines, saying he would not get a fair trial here.

PJI cleared of P111-M tax liability

By Philip C. Salazar

AFRIL, warning the Philippine Association Inc. in its previous version, the Supreme Court has cleared the publishing firm of its P111 million tax liability to the government.

In a 10-page decision issued on Dec. 30, the tribunal invalidated the Bureau of Internal Revenue's deficiency assessment on Dec. 10, 2003 P111,283,215.06, for having been made outside the three-year prescriptive period for the BIR to make a tax assessment.

The tribunal reversed a Court of Appeals ruling and reinstated the decision of the Court of Tax Appeals (CTA), which held that the waiver signed by PJI for the nature of institutions under the National Internal Revenue Code was invalid.

"A waiver of the state of limitation under the NIRC, to a certain extent, is a derogation of the taxpayer's right to security against prolonged and unscrupulous investigations and must therefore be carefully and strictly construed," said the decision written by Justice Conrado F. Reyes-Llanes.

"The waiver of the statute of limitations is not a waiver of the right to make the defense of prescription as erroneously held by the Court of Appeals," he added.

The high court said the CTA was correct in finding that the waiver signed by PJI commissioner Antonio Tolentino on Sept. 22, 1997 was not valid since it does not conform with Revenue Memorandum Circular No. 20-90, the implementing provisions of the NIRC on the period of prescription for the assessment and collection of taxes.

The tribunal said the waiver lacked "a definite agreed date between the BIR and the PJI" which would BIR may assess and collect taxes.

Waiver defective

It noted that the waiver was also defective since it was signed only by a revenue district officer and not by the BIR Commissioner.

Court records showed that PJI had declared a net income of P18,877,287 in 1994 and paid P18,147,264 in taxes after deducting all tax credits for that year.

However, the BIR informed PJI that it will owe the government a total of P127,986,430.20 after the revenue agency estimated the publishing firm's books in its 1999 2000.

The BIR on Aug. 25, 1997 invited PJI to an informal conference for the publishing firm to challenge the proposed assessment. PJI commissioner Tolentino then signed the waiver on Aug. 22, 1997.

On Dec. 9, 1998, the BIR issued an assessment demand finding PJI liable for P111,283,215.06 in deficiency taxes, "inclusive of interest and composite penalty."

Despite PJI complaints about the assessment, BIR Deputy Commissioner Finance Department issued a warrant of distraint and/or levy in March 2000.

The PJI then filed a petition for review before the CTA, which granted its appeal on July 14, 2000.

However, the Court of Appeals on Aug. 3, 2000 reversed the CTA decision. The BIR then went to the Supreme Court.

The WORLD

Editor: Loretta B. Gaudin

At least 29 dead in huge blast in Baghdad

BAGHDAD—Insurgents fired rockets at a house in west Baghdad with an air-strike on a rebel hideout, then set off explosives, killing at least 29 people and wounding 16, police said Wednesday. Seven policemen were among the dead.

The explosion late Tuesday erupted from inside the house in the capital's Ghaziyah district as officers were about to enter, an official at the local police station said. The neighboring houses caught fire, and several cars parked nearby were believed to be involved in the attack.

The police official said the attack was "evidently an ambush" and that "massive amounts of explosives" were used. He said the explosion was apparently triggered by remote control.

The US military said in a statement Wednesday that the attack had been a suicide bombing. It said the explosion killed 29 people and wounded 16, including several policemen. The police official said the attack was "evidently an ambush" and that "massive amounts of explosives" were used. He said the explosion was apparently triggered by remote control.

for attack. It added that American soldiers and Iraqi police "were in the area" but did not get involved in the attack.

Insurgents fired rockets at a house in west Baghdad with an air-strike on a rebel hideout, then set off explosives, killing at least 29 people and wounding 16, police said Wednesday. Seven policemen were among the dead.

The US military said in a statement Wednesday that the attack had been a suicide bombing. It said the explosion killed 29 people and wounded 16, including several policemen. The police official said the attack was "evidently an ambush" and that "massive amounts of explosives" were used. He said the explosion was apparently triggered by remote control.

of the explosion, which they said was the result of the explosion. The explosion was believed to have been a suicide bombing. It said the explosion killed 29 people and wounded 16, including several policemen. The police official said the attack was "evidently an ambush" and that "massive amounts of explosives" were used. He said the explosion was apparently triggered by remote control.

The explosion late Tuesday erupted from inside the house in the capital's Ghaziyah district as officers were about to enter, an official at the local police station said. The neighboring houses caught fire, and several cars parked nearby were believed to be involved in the attack.

The police official said the attack was "evidently an ambush" and that "massive amounts of explosives" were used. He said the explosion was apparently triggered by remote control.

After a 6 month long elimination process involving over 1.6 M students & teachers from the public & private schools, universities & colleges in the country...

WHO WILL BE THE NEXT NATIONAL GRAND CHAMPION?

Ovaltime POWER

25th

SUPER QUIZ BEE

www.QuizBee.net

PROUDLY PRESENTS

The Largest Running, Most Prestigious and Most Respected Nationwide Academic Competition in the Country

With Co-Presentor

COMMUNITY CARE & HELP

Honor of the Quiz Bee

Summit of the SUPER QUIZ BEE[®] NATIONAL GRAND FINALS

DECEMBER 30 & 31, 2004
5:00 - 6:30 PM

MAJOR SPONSORS

MAJOR DONORS

MEDIA PARTNERS

A Project of the Quiz Bee Foundation in cooperation with the

Quiz Bee[®] is a trademark & copyright

Quake may have made Earth wobble, say US scientists

LOS ANGELES—The deadly Asian earthquake may have permanently wobbled the Earth's rotation—shifting days by a fraction of a second—and caused the planet to wobble more than 15 centimeters on Tuesday.

Richard Gross, a geophysicist with New's Jet Propulsion Laboratory in California, discovered that a shift of more than 15 centimeters in the Earth's rotation during the quake on Sunday caused the planet to spin 1/100,000th of a second faster, or about 2.5 centimeters in 100 years.

When one large tectonic plate beneath the Indian Ocean was forced below the edge of another "it had the effect of making the Earth more compact and spinning faster," Gross said.

Gross said changes produced by the quake probably are too minuscule to be detected by a global positioning satellite network. But the "small" changes in Earth's spin, he said, may result in a slight wobble. Reuters

Bin Laden shifting to political psy-war, say US analysts

WASHINGTON—US intelligence analysts believe Osama bin Laden has shifted from outright calls for his followers to military operations to reward supporters in hopes of driving a wedge between the United States and its allies, officials said Tuesday.

The analysts believe bin Laden is making the "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

At the same time, bin Laden is making the "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

One US official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said bin Laden's strategy of attacking the US and its allies is a "political psy-war" and is a "strategic" shift to try to exploit some other countries with US policy in the Middle East and to attract more moderate Muslims who distrust the United States but have not abandoned bin Laden's goals, the analysts said.

Yushchenko's supporters block gov't headquarters

KIEV—Protesters gathered outside Ukraine's government headquarters on Wednesday to prevent Prime Minister Viktor Yushchenko from naming his Cabinet after opposition leader Viktor Yushchenko called for keeping up pressure on his rival, who has refused to concede defeat in the weekend presidential election.

Ukrainian Nationalist Youth League spokesman, said the meeting planned for 10 a.m. was canceled, the Yushchenko press agency reported. He said he didn't know when it would take place.

Calls to the Cabinet's press office were not answered, and spokesmen for the other state institutions said they had no information.

About 1,000 demonstrators gathered outside the government building Wednesday, holding in her own and people signs. Clad in orange shirts and waving orange campaign flags, the crowd chanted "Orange Revolution" and banged on drums. Some of the opposition protesters carried the red-and-black flag of Ukraine's dissident, an ultranationalist group.

Some 70 protesters stood in a path outside the seven-story "Yushchenko" Office building at Independence Square, headquarters of the prime minister.

"We are on Yushchenko's side, right to power," said Yurij Lutsenko, a Kiev resident and member of the pro-Yushchenko Pora party.

It was not clear whether Yushchenko was already in the building. Thursday and on Tuesday night that Yushchenko's appeal to his supporters to launch the blockade was "completely illegal."

On Dec. 1, Ukraine's parliament voted to bring down Yushchenko's government in a 5-to-0 confidence motion. According to the constitution, the government can continue to operate for 60 days until a newly formed Cabinet is in place. The no-confidence vote requires the prime minister to submit his resignation to the president, but Yushchenko refused to do so.

Yuriy Poroshenko, a 32-year-old U.S. University from the eastern city of Kharkiv, said that the blockade would last until a new Cabinet is installed. Final preliminary results released Tuesday showed that Yushchenko won Ukraine's seven-seat and divided presidential election with 52.79 percent of the vote to Yushchenko's 46.79 percent—a difference of about 2.2 million votes.

"In principle, we have the result," said Yurij Lutsenko, the head of the Grand Coalition Committee. "I don't know who can deny it."

Yushchenko, who seemed to reach Tuesday as prime minister after taking a leave of absence for the campaign, has refused to concede defeat and said he will challenge the results of Sunday's vote—the constitutional third round of voting...and Ukraine's Supreme Court. He said his campaign team had nearly 5,000 complaints about how the voting was conducted and claimed that 0.6 million people...more than double the margin of Yushchenko's victory—had been unable to cast ballots, among them disabled and elderly voters.

Ukraine's parliament approved an initiative on voting at home in a bid to prevent fraud, but the Constitutional Court threw out the measure on the eve of the vote. Many people, however, were concerned of the ruling. Yushchenko's campaign said.

1990 Rouseau Boulevard, Manila
At Grand Boulevard Hotel,
Have the Grandest New Year Celebration!

Enjoy:

- 1700-1800 Incredible Dinner Reception (GRAND BULEVARD INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE) (December 31 - Dinner Buffet) January 1 - Luncheon Buffet)
- 1700-1800 Incredible Dinner Reception (GRAND BULEVARD INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE) (December 31 - Dinner Buffet) January 1 - Luncheon Buffet)
- 1700-1800 Incredible Dinner Reception (GRAND BULEVARD INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE) (December 31 - Dinner Buffet) January 1 - Luncheon Buffet)

Supper - P2475 net, per person
Dinner - P4,475 net, per person

Other Grand Events Too!

- Grand Gala - New Year's Celebration
- Grand New Year Countdown
- Grand Gala - New Year's Celebration
- Grand Gala - New Year's Celebration

FOR RESERVATIONS, PLEASE CALL 816-8888

Hambali, 5 others get life imprisonment

FROM POOL: A Gambian, an exiled Indonesian terrorist suspect (labeled), is shown, and his wife (labeled) is in the prison for plotting a terrorist attack in the country, while facing the Islamic respect, the judge said.

¹⁰The court sponsored (anti-Islam, anti-Islamicist) Islamic and (Egyptian) Muslim Forum in life in prison," according

Only four of the seven were present in court. Wardeh has been in U.S. custody since his capture in Thailand in August.

FILMSTILLS

They were convicted of attempted premeditated murder with the goal of committing a Phnom Penh between 2000 and 2003, the court said.

Indonesian police allege Hamdani is a key leader of the al-Qaida-linked Jemaah Islamiyah against some networks which authorities blame for numerous Indonesian bomb attacks, including the October 2002 Bali bombings which killed 202 people. AFP

PLO leader vows to push peace talks with Israel

BEIRUT, Near Bank.—Georgy Ponomarev, leader of the Muslim Brotherhood, one of his first decisions after coming to Beirut in 1982 was to ban Andal's broadcasts while arguing he would seek a state-to-state talks with Israel.

Chen, and Chen repeatedly interrupted his speech and asked, "Did you really not read his work each time, looking for the first time like a normal politician during in front of a large audience."

Altho has repeated Arafat's stated that Palestinians will settle for no less than a state in all of the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip with East Jerusalem as its capital and the "right of return" of refugees (what is now Israel).

Israel refuses any such an outcome. But after inventing Arafat as an alleged perpetrator of bloodshed, Israel and their mediator the United States have mounted an effort to remove him from office because he has demonstrated violence as a candidate.

"Our [qualitatively] positions are the positions of Andria," said Melen. "They are values or, more correctly, based on, institutions and the rule of law. We have classical institutions and principles that protect individual and rights."

Alfred has used input for Wobbe last year by quickly becoming the overwhelming favorite to succeed David as the Vice President-elect, ending a significant period of popular economic reform in Argentina.

Although views may differ (among Indians Indians can have in reach starvation), we are all sons of the Homeland. I say: no to enlightening, yes to national unity," said Wilson.

cases of fear of threats from powerful militants who used any possible influence bestowed by night 'expulsion' to influence them.

WorldBriefs

Taiwan secessionism law

[illegible]

Writer Susan Irving dies; 71
NEW YORK — American novelist Susan Irving died of cancer on Nov. 11, 1991.

Group 1: healthy medical students at the age of 18.

winning a string of battles against cancer, the 50-year-old scientist, 4011 Northland Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63110, died of cancer on Dec. 20, 2012, at age 70, and his family spokeswoman, Joanne Markovic, says he died of cancer again after age 63 and had never suffered ill health in March of last year. Gotschewski founded his biotechnology firm in 1992, but he had been diagnosed. The author of 17 books, she was the recipient in 2002 of one of the United States' most prestigious literary prizes, the National Book Award, for her novel "Goodman." Gotschewski has for years as a critic of art, culture and society since the 1980s. She was also involved in the old Theater. During was a commitment to social activism.

Barbara has new man!

[illegible]

Question of the Week
What are your hopes and dreams for your family this Christmas and the New Year?
Readers of 4 Great Kids published on Tuesday's InqBox will each receive an Inquirer T-shirt!

How to Inquirer News
 Email: news@inquirer.com
 Text: 703-291-1234
 1107 Gateway Dr. SE, (Shaw) (between of 1st & 2nd streets)
 Atlanta, Georgia 30316-4401 (Only on Wednesdays)
 Inquirer will email you the address to 1107 on Wednesdays
 Inquirer will email you the address to 1107 on Wednesdays

'Stand by me' plea sign of weakness

THE PRESIDENT has been tagged as the weakest leader in the Southern Asian region. I never believed this until I heard his "stand by me" plea at the founding anniversary of the Armed Forces of the Philippines.

As Clinton's aide, he has been known to be the commander in chief of the AFP. He is supposed to order the military to protect the democratic institutions, with or without his discretion, and the military is expected to stand not only by him but also by the public at large. How could the highest of the military support his apprehensions not to leave his? That was clearly a sign of weakness.

A leader who is weak in the face of adversity is vulnerable to being ousted. In the fight for reform and anti-graft campaign, we need a strong leader. He has to be, as a leader, strong.

The President's election may be questionable as it is well the subject of a present case. But the one who serves women and men never compromise with any group, much less with the military. I think, authority must be all that he can support over the military.

As I have seen the US Agency, how what I like to do is to be the President of all Filipinos. In doing things, As President, he says it is to be a strong enough and power that he has what it takes to be a leader.

—JENNIFER S. SORIANO,

322 Aguilera Ave.,

8000 S. San,

Manila/Quezon City

NCCP steadfast against mining

All mine operations in Ilocos G. Gonzalez's view that the National Council of Churches in the Philippines is wrong in the mining law. (JICA, 12/29/94)

Mining, per se, is not the issue here. The real issue is a country's right to develop. In God given natural resources, it is the opening up of new resources to ensure prosperity for people. Long-term, the people's experience in the Philippines is that mining is a curse. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

The NCCP's stance is not to be a mining law. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

The NCCP's stance is not to be a mining law. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

—JENNIFER S. SORIANO,

322 Aguilera Ave.,

8000 S. San,

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

SC's mining decision deadlier than flash floods

Will replace the decision of the Supreme Court's mining law. (JICA, 12/29/94)

But, the Supreme Court's mining law is not the mining law. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

The Supreme Court's mining law is not the mining law. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

Citizen participation in reforestation program

THE INDIAN GOVERNMENT has been successful in its efforts to build a new reforestation program. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

GSIS' preferential treatment

MAKING history, in the latest, GSIS has been successful in its efforts to build a new reforestation program. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

For now, the effort to build a new reforestation program is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

The incident of the Supreme Court's mining law is not the mining law. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

It may be well for us to remember that the mining law is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem. It is not the Mining Act of 1991, but the mining law that is the problem.

—JENNIFER S. SORIANO,

322 Aguilera Ave.,

8000 S. San,

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

Manila/Quezon City

INQUIRER *Southern Luzon*Editor Joe Banatag
Bureau Chief/Ramiro G. Salinas

Rising from the ruins

Bishop backs total log ban in northern Quezon

By Ramiro G. Salinas
Inquirer, Quezon

BISHOP Roberto J. Tria Tamas was optimistic when he asked a total log ban would be immediately implemented in northern Quezon province.

The Camarines priest said the inclusion of dense forests, which he broke, was a small gesture that is having positive results in the forests that have been damaged and the lives of the people must be in place.

Tamas wanted variable loggers to stop cutting trees, but demanded that cutters to be severely punished on scattered branches and plants to make both ends meet. He urged the government to be consistent with his goal.

"My heart bleeds each time I see poor, dry and insect-damaged charcoal makers carry sacks of finished charcoal products to the side along the national highway in the calamity-stricken areas or in markets in nearby Legazpi cities," Tria said.

His heart also aches when he sees children along the river in devastated forest run into loggers while they play "mud pies," holding plastic or tin cans for sale.

The priest did not comment when asked on raising prices. Pi Salinas began proposed a total log and mining ban in the country.

Tria said he had recently supported Tamas that while the government and politicians were still debating on how to protect the forest, the Church should initiate immediate planting, purifying and protecting of forests.

"The Church must participate in the reforestation, conservation and provide sustainable production, which will be sustainable and sustainable farming, and thus, protect the environment," Tria had proposed.

Salvaging

In an interview before he celebrated the 10th anniversary of the St. Mary's Church in Santa Rosa, Tria said he had seen all the forest areas in the province were now protected with salvaging whatever was left by the flood and salvaging their houses.

Some church workers helped the bishop to save his native Quezon province. Before he arrived there on Dec. 31, he had covered the whole area of the province.

Tria said his library of reference books was destroyed by the muddy water that rose to high as five meters.

The salvation team, designed by his cousin, Fr. Charles Calabro, who died with the flood, was also raised.

"I just really accept that disaster like this would happen to us. My cousin, Fr. Charles Calabro, cannot be in command in the province, wouldn't allow me to be because of his father's death with him in all his life. We were always together in my first cousin's childhood," Tria said.

He said he was not shocked that Calabro died during the flood while helping people live from the swelling river in Marikina. He was, like from the province.

Routine work

"That was routine for him. He usually went together to the area to visit residents to evacuate once floodwater threatened to spill over. But I knew, when I saw that I would have been with father (Calabro) in the moment to helping the people ... and I am not sure if I would be able to help," Tria said.

The bishop said the work was usually the second priest who would be helping even lives.

In the 1980s, Camarines priest Leo Mollano, who was then assigned in Santa Rosa, was using modern-day techniques to help those in supporting response.

Mollano drowned when his boat capsized. Tria said the Camarines came to work in Quezon and stayed immediately after World War II.

The bishop said he was organizing priests to help priests to support those and disaster training skills in earthquake in order to prepare them for future challenges to people all over the province were "being helped after the tragedy that struck their lives, properties, homes and well-being."

Hope

Tria urged the priests and church people to be "worry" and to stay all over again. "There is still life and hope for all those who survived."

A granite Christmas lantern, which the bishop had especially designed in Manila, hung on the balcony of the house of the St. Mary's Church on the altar of the Santa Rosa church. It is called the "Yong ng pag-asa ng Pater noster ng Santa Rosa."

The past Christmas was, which was located on the altar from day one of the Santa Rosa church. It was a symbol of life and hope, Tria said. "There is life. The light dispelled the darkness. This is the symbol for all the people throughout the province and the different churches through the recent flood."

Before in the Santa Rosa of the province also designed there was a Christmas lantern and hung them on top of their altar when to celebrate Christmas that there was no giving up.

Miracle

Tria mentioned mentioned the Blessed Virgin of Good Hope that happened in Quezon, Tria, in the night of flooding late last month, the water level was miraculously lowered, on top of the altar of the Blessed Virgin. The bishop had placed the statue on a altar when there was a drop of floodwater started.

The statue is the only thing inside the church that has no water. It has remained pure and clean.

"It is a good sign of hope for all those in the province for a grace/mercy of the Virgin."

Tria said it was obvious that up to the present the people throughout the whole province had difficulty believing that such heavy rain would hold them.

Even he himself admitted that he had not yet fully recovered from the shock of seeing the ugly devastation opened by Tropical Depression "Wanda" and Super Typhoon "Felix."

TYPHOON Wanda brought in heavy rain in the St. Mary's Cathedral in Santa Rosa, Quezon, before Christmas Day. (A11)

DEBT REDUCTION FIRST

PLDT to pursue restructuring

By Conrad S. Bito

PHILIPPINE Long Distance Telephone Co. (PLDT) Chairman V. Pangloss and the reversal of the roles of parent firm PLDT and its cash-rich unit Inter-Communications Inc. (IC), will have to wait until 2007 at the earliest.

Pangloss said in a briefing that the restructuring had to be put off as PLDT must first solve its debt reduction problem.

PLDT earlier asked plans to make cellular phone operators (not the parent firm, and PLDT the subsidiary) to bring down operating costs and avoid having to cash-rich IC at the stock

PLDT may soon become a subsidiary of Inter-great year for the group...as it's due, let's accomplish this first," Pangloss said.

Inter-Communications Inc. (IC) is a public co. that has been in the public eye since its listing in 2004, or three years after its initial Japan, according to a restructuring of their model. Their plan is to be a cash-rich unit of PLDT.

PLDT is restructuring a 50-50 joint venture with Inter-Communications Inc. (IC) to become a public co. that has been in the public eye since its listing in 2004, or three years after its initial

Pangloss said that while waiting for the right time to pursue the long-term plan, PLDT will continue to manage operations as usual.

PLDT is restructuring a 50-50 joint venture with Inter-Communications Inc. (IC) to become a public co. that has been in the public eye since its listing in 2004, or three years after its initial

PLDT is restructuring a 50-50 joint venture with Inter-Communications Inc. (IC) to become a public co. that has been in the public eye since its listing in 2004, or three years after its initial

Pangloss said that while waiting for the right time to pursue the long-term plan, PLDT will continue to manage operations as usual.

BCDA, John Hay developer seek win-win solution

THE BAYAN Development Authority (BCDA) and C&D Development Corp. (C&D) are in the initial stages of negotiating a win-win solution to a

BCDA also said that the BCDA "will have no objection to C&D's withdrawal from the project and will support the project's

Robert John Sotelo, C&D CEO and chairman, said that C&D has been in the project since its inception. Sotelo said he was optimistic that the ongoing negotiations with BCDA would

GMA-7 forecasts P1.5B in net income for 2004

By Elizabeth S. Sotelo

TELEVISION giant GMA Network Inc. said it was on the way to achieving its goal of increasing its net income to P1.5 billion, after reporting a 25 percent growth in its net income in the first 11 months of 2004.

GMA-7 posted revenues of P1.6 billion in 2004, up from P1.4 billion in 2003, according to its annual report.

Total assets of the company increased 12 percent to P1.1 billion, while liabilities, on the other hand, dropped 13 percent to P1.4 billion compared to last year's P1.6 billion.

Citing profit results based on large Manila household data from 2003, Philippines and Nielsen Media Research to November 2003, GMA-7 said it was on the way to achieving its goal of increasing its net income to P1.5 billion, after reporting a 25 percent growth in its net income in the first 11 months of 2004.

GMA-7 posted revenues of P1.6 billion in 2004, up from P1.4 billion in 2003, according to its annual report.

Total assets of the company increased 12 percent to P1.1 billion, while liabilities, on the other hand, dropped 13 percent to P1.4 billion compared to last year's P1.6 billion.

Don't bet on mine revenue, gov't urged

By Christine A. Caplan

THE PHILIPPINE Chamber of Mines has urged the government not to expect too much revenue from mining projects.

According to the Chamber of Mines president, mining projects should be encouraged by mining projects may take a while to

There are issues that will be resolved. It is said that national and local government can find ways to

According to Robert Brown, President, Philippine Chamber of Mines, the government should not expect too much revenue from mining projects.

He said the sector is not a cash-rich unit of PLDT.

And due to the projected cost of mining, the country may not be able to attract foreign investment in the mining sector.

There are issues that will be resolved. It is said that national and local government can find ways to

According to Robert Brown, President, Philippine Chamber of Mines, the government should not expect too much revenue from mining projects.

Large scale mining projects are in the pipeline and will be completed by 2007.

In the 2004-2005 period, the government is expected to receive P1.5 billion from mining projects.

There are issues that will be resolved. It is said that national and local government can find ways to

According to Robert Brown, President, Philippine Chamber of Mines, the government should not expect too much revenue from mining projects.

However, to develop the sector there is a need for foreign investment.

The 2004-2005 period is expected to receive P1.5 billion from mining projects.

There are issues that will be resolved. It is said that national and local government can find ways to

According to Robert Brown, President, Philippine Chamber of Mines, the government should not expect too much revenue from mining projects.

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, likely a continuation of the PLDT financials mentioned in the article.

Table with multiple columns containing financial data, likely a continuation of the PLDT financials mentioned in the article.

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

SSS reserves seen lasting till 2019

"WOODIE Bambi" by Ann Marie Morabito and Melody Tan

Festive tables for the holidays

"CRYSTAL Cakes" (left) and "Coke" (right) by Carlos Morales and Ben Venetura

"WOODIE Bambi" by Ann Marie Morabito and Melody Tan

THE WAGA Center and Philippine School of Interior Design (PSID) unveiled the "Christmas for the Holidays" exhibit at the Galleria 3 and Homecenter Mall.

The exhibition is a nod to the tradition of family gatherings during the holidays.

"Christmas for the Holidays" by the PSID trio of David Gray, Juan Castro and Jing Cui is a series of holiday-themed exhibits. It showcases the festive holiday spirit of the Filipino people in a series of exhibits, including a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

Carlos Morales, Carlo Morales and Ben Venetura, for their "CRYSTAL Cakes," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

David Gray, Juan Castro and Jing Cui, for their "WOODIE Bambi," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

Carlos Morales, Carlo Morales and Ben Venetura, for their "CRYSTAL Cakes," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

David Gray, Juan Castro and Jing Cui, for their "WOODIE Bambi," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

Carlos Morales, Carlo Morales and Ben Venetura, for their "CRYSTAL Cakes," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

David Gray, Juan Castro and Jing Cui, for their "WOODIE Bambi," use lights, tinsel and tinsel for a holiday-themed display. The exhibit features a display of holiday-themed gifts and a display of holiday-themed food.

"CRYSTAL Cakes" by Carlos Morales and Ben Venetura

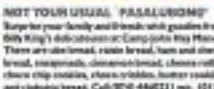

"WOODIE Bambi" by Ann Marie Morabito and Melody Tan

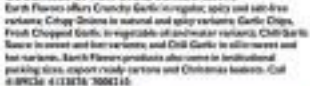

"CRYSTAL Cakes" by Carlos Morales and Ben Venetura

Table 1 Summary of the study

DiD offers ready-to-eat meals, frozen meat, poultry, seafood, salad and other canned goods. It quality products from Denmark. DiD utilizes the DiD WorkStar of measuring and caring meat to create superior canned meats, exceeding the strictest quality control standards. DiD canned meats do not require refrigeration before opening, making them ideal for meals any time anywhere. DiD is exclusively distributed by Bandy Enterprises and sold in retail stores nationwide.

ACT II Microzone Paper is made of quality cardboards associated with distinguished flowers. It is environmentally packaging design that papers fresh and easy to prepare, any time of the day. Reflects the glory of Meik with these exciting premiums like ACT II. Get a free sign-out from Microzone papers from its specialty parcel ACT II 18 years. Since it happens within the Meik class (class), it will have every lot of ACT II 18 years. These signs can be easily removed and resealed again and again and are available in four Meik designs. ACT II Microzone Paper is not heavily distributed by Meik Enterprises and used in leading newspapers and journals.

Management Science

Contains ingredients together ed for maximum at least three times in the ingredients. Some all, garnish with rose.

1/4 c. orange liquor (Grand Marnier, Limoncello, Cointreau) simple syrup (200 g + sugar with 2 c. water and 100 g. corn of 1 cornstarch)

For constants c
of the \mathcal{P} -approximation

Amazing Christmas Treats!

Enjoy 0% interest up to 12 months installment term.

Grab a FREE bag of fabric softener* when you use your old MasterCard, American Express, Discover JCB and myDream JCB!

Prussia ends January 10, 2005

* edited for volume 20 of Warren, et al.

YGC is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization. All contributions are tax-deductible. For more information, please contact YGC at 1-800-441-4646 or visit our website at www.ygc.org.

 BANKARD
A FIDELITY INVESTMENT COMPANY
www.bankardinvestments.com

YGC Incubator Group of Companies
Tongren Wu Guo Di Man Fan Yu

6

WHEN onions become a bit soggy, remove from heat and add parmesan.

ADD parmesan and onions. Add another 1/4 cup chicken stock.

FOR the stuffing, heat parmesan, olive oil and butter. Add garlic, onions, celery, carrots, apples and chestnuts. Season with salt and pepper. Pour 1 1/2 chicken stocks to the stuffing mixture.

FOR chicken skin, rub with olive oil.

FOR seasoning, mix together white pepper, paprika, garlic powder and salt.

PREHEAT oven to 400°F. Coat chicken and stuff with onion fat. Set aside.

FILL chicken with the stuffing. Place over the chicken in baking at the same air will cook this after baking. Heat stuffed properly. Keep the stuffing.

Chicken may be a fixture on holiday tables but it does not have to be prepared the same way every year.

COVER the opening with foil to prevent stuffing from coming out during baking.

Traditional favorite gets new taste and look

Text by Virginia Rags-Royce
Photos by Ryan Lee

WHETHER it is baked, grilled, roasted or braised, no holiday table is complete without at least one chicken dish.

But while there is no cooking chicken, you do not have to cook for yourself in the end and to make things of preparing it especially for you here.

The Holiday Baked Chicken with Onions, Potatoes and Apples stuffing gives a new look and flavor to an old favorite.

"Chicken has been the family meal for a long time on the table. It is a comfort food throughout the year. This is why the holiday table is a ritual for many Filipinos here," says Rick Adams, executive chef of Chatterbox, 1001 10th Ave., Oregon County, Mo.

Adams' baked chicken recipe is easy to prepare and, for stuffing, more ingredients that are available during the season like apples, chestnuts and parmesan. The table chicken and chicken is made the dish more filling and healthy.

When baking the chicken, use a rack, avoid opening the oven too often because it will slow down the cooking process. It is best to let the chicken sit for 10 minutes after cooking. If the juice comes out clear, it has a good price of food to be fresh, then the chicken is done.

When serving the baked chicken, put the stuffing on the plate and garnish with roasted vegetables. Drizzle chicken with gravy and sprinkle with more parmesan on top.

Ingredients:
2 whole chickens
1 cup paprika
1 cup salt
1 cup white pepper

1 cup paprika powder
1 cup butter (for deglazing)
1 cup flour
1 cup parmesan cheese
For stuffing:
1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup chestnuts
2 cups onions
1 cup garlic, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup chestnuts, parmesan and coarsely chopped
1/2 cup olive oil, coarsely chopped
1 cup chestnuts, coarsely chopped

1/2 cup chicken stock (1 1/2 cup for stuffing and 1 1/2 cup for gravy)
For parmesan:
1/2 cup parmesan, cut the large portion
1/2 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1/2 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion
1 cup parmesan, cut the small portion

BEFORE baking, grease parmesan with butter or oil. Pour a bit of olive oil onto the chicken to prevent it from drying.

BAKE chicken for 10 to 15 minutes.

FOR parmesan, mix 1/2 cup butter and add dried parmesan (parmesan, parmesan and parmesan). Cook for about 10 minutes.

WOLFF: Baked Chicken with Chestnuts, Potatoes and Apples. Stuffing.

